STEP THREE DECISION

I think of the first three AA steps as: "I can't. (Step One). God can! (Step Two). I have decided to ask Him to help me. (Step Three).

I no longer consider the praying the Third Step Prayer as my decision to turn my will and my life over to the care of God. It is obvious that my decision had to come before doing so. According to the Big Book my decision to ask for God's help was made on the bottom paragraph of page 62: "Next, we decided that hereafter in this drama of life God was to be my director, etc. . . ." (p.62). The actual asking took place when I prayed the Third Step Prayer on page 63. My decision was well thought out before asking God for help via the page 63 prayer.

I believe this distinction is important because we are told: "We thought well before taking this step making sure we were ready; that we could at last abandon ourselves utterly to Him." Time to think well before the decision and the prayer is important. It would be tempting to haphazardly repeat this watershed Prayer verbatim, defusing the process of its needed substance and weight. Personally, having several months sobriety before this sequence, I had already made a sincere decision before praying this prayer with a sponsor.

We are told: "The wording was, of course, quite optional so long as we expressed the idea, voicing it without reservation." (p. 63). My sponsor had me read each sentence (separately) of the prayer and use my own words to explain what it meant to me. When finished, we both prayed the Third Step Prayer verbatim. I was immediately launched into the following steps and have not had to drink since.

The Door Is Open to All

By: E. C. | Hackettstown, New York

AT A RECENT AA meeting, one young woman introduced herself by saying, "My name is----. I'm an alcoholic and a born-again Christian." A few minutes later, another member introduced himself by stating that he was an alcoholic and a "reborn" Christian.

Didn't they know, I asked myself, "AA is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization, or institution"? That it is a nonreligious, nondenominational, spiritual program?

After taking my own inventory later that evening, I felt much better. I saw that I was judging, criticizing others self-righteously. But a basic principle was there, even so. Especially for the sake of newcomers, we should not bring our religious beliefs into a nonreligious organization. Like many alcoholics, I was a devout agnostic when I first came to AA. I really believe that had I heard people talking about their personal religion, quoting the Bible, etc., I'd have felt that AA was not the place for me--that I was lost forever.

Today, thanks to my Higher Power, I do read the Bible and have a very personal conception of God.

But I refrain from describing Him as the God of a particular religion or sect, for fear some newcomer may be misled. Our Second Step very carefully avoids the creation of any confusion here, and the chapter on this Step in the "Twelve and Twelve" even suggests that we may begin by using "AA itself" as a power "greater than ourselves."

One of the most beautiful and appealing aspects of AA is its universality. The door is open to all, believers, nonbelievers, agnostics, and atheists.

I have the deepest respect for all my fellow AA members who have returned to the religion of their childhood, but let's keep religion where it belongs and AA where it belongs. The founders went to exceptional lengths to do this, and I really believe it is our responsibility to keep sacred the heritage that was so freely given us. Let's not make it any harder for the newcomer than it already is. Let's remember that most alcoholics, when they first come to AA, suffer from spiritual bankruptcy in addition to their mental and physical liabilities. Let's spare them from any religious demands. Let the grace of a loving God lead them gently into sanity and sobriety. They have the right to grow into their own individual understanding of a Higher Power.

Shirt with a message

I'd like to share a little story that helps me with the Third Step and wards off negative thinking. It's about a married couple, both illiterate, who found their Higher Power in an unusual way.

They met a group of people who dressed alike. The men wore red shirts when performing a certain task. The man told his wife about the shirts, and she set about making him one also. But he came home one day from a meeting looking greatly disappointed--the others all had messages printed on their shirts, and he did not.

His wife's inability to read did not prevent her from sewing a message on her husband's shirt. Proudly, he wore the shirt to a meeting and came home that night overjoyed. The men, he said, really liked the message she had selected, because it described what happened in their lives.

The message, which the wife had copied at random from a sign in a store window, read "Under New Management."

A Whole New Life

By: L. R. | Portland, Oregon

WHEN I FIRST came to AA, little did I know that I was standing on the threshold of a transforming experience, one that would dwarf all my former visions of personal happiness and personal satisfaction. I was to learn a secret that not only would change my own restless mind, but could do the same for anyone longing to know peace of mind and a deep feeling of serenity.

Several questions puzzled, confused, and haunted me until I found the answers. Is there any cure for guilt? Are prayers ever really answered? Can God really change a person? How does He do it? What sort of commitment is required? What do you have to give up? How deeply involved do you have to become? What risks do you have to take? Is there really any such thing as peace of mind?

Searching for the answers, I tried on my own to reconstruct my life before coming to AA, to realign my thinking and my goals, and to set my house in order. But I was, or seemed to be, too weak to handle it alone. No matter how hard I tried to kick the habit of alcoholic drinking, I failed. Someone would always say, "Try harder."

There were all the formulas that a psychologist may offer, such as getting involved with the worthy needs of society or taking up a serious hobby. Somehow, those didn't work, either. I went on trying to lift myself up by my own bootstraps until I was weary and worn out. Then, I realized that no human power could bring me relief.

After quite some time on the AA program, I could see that patching up the outside could never heal the inside. I couldn't cover my character defects as if I was putting makeup over old scars, and I couldn't cover weaknesses with just a pleasing personality. I had to find my Higher Power. You cannot cure a fever by throwing away the thermometer, any more than you can cure alcoholism by throwing away the bottle. I had to get a new set of rules, a new life, new goals, and new friends, and start all over again from scratch.

And I found that it is true! You can change directions, and you can live a sober life. This program is not just a modification of old ideas or just an improvement of an old way of life. It is a new concept, new life, new ideas. It is a complete transformation. This is peace of mind and serenity.

No one can see the hand that lifts your burdens, your guilt, or your compulsion to drink. But it is there. It is a miracle. It is the Higher Power. It is God, as I choose to call Him.

The Water Slide

By: George A. | Tigard, Oregon

Who knew letting go would cause such a splash?

After I had complained at AA meetings for several months that the action of letting go and letting God was a foreign and incomprehensible prescription for my daily self-imposed sufferings, an AA friend confronted me with the following proposal:

“We’re all tired of hearing you bellyache about letting go and letting God,” she said. “You’ve been here far too long not to grasp this concept. I want you to meet me at the water slide in East Portland at the mall tomorrow at 7:00 p.m. Bring your swim trunks.”

I did what she said. She had many years of sobriety. She demanded and got action, even from this male newcomer. No one gave this woman a hard time. I was plumb scared of her.

“Go put your trunks on and drop into those water tubes until I tell you that you can stop,” she said.

“Do I have to?” I whined.

“Yes. You have to. Stop the arguing and get on up there!”

So there I am, standing in line with a bunch of little kids who are staring at me in disbelief. “Hey mister, are you sure you should be here doing this?” one said.

I jumped in as directed and promptly spread into a spidery form, with arms and legs splayed out, trying to control and manipulate my watery freefall. I was determined to direct this descent, if not stop it altogether. Time and time again I shot through the tubes. Finally, I graduated to the very top tube with the longest run. I was so happy and having so much fun that kids were now encouraging me. The freedom that I felt from “letting go” down those water tubes was exhilarating. After about a dozen water slide drops, my AA friend hollered, “Alright already! Do you get it now?”

“Yes, I get it,” I hollered back, “but, please, can I go down just one more time?”

“No,” she said. “I’m hungry. Get dried off and dress yourself. Take me to dinner.”

That’s how I learned to let go and let God!

Carrying the Message

By: V. T. W. | Vega, Texas

Insomnia

I have found for a long time that if I get into brooding over my problems at night, or if I just get into prolonged thinking, and rethinking, about what else I might have said at the meeting, or how I might ‘reach’ so-and-so who is still drinking--well, presto, I have insomnia.

The cure to this for me, for that night anyway, is to begin saying Steps Two and Three over and over in my mind. Soon I am confused as to which I said last, and a little later the two Steps begin to run together like someone had shaken the words up in a basket, and soon I awake and realize I have been asleep for quite a time. Then I turn over and go back to sleep.

But I hate getting up even yet. However, I believe I will never die from getting up in the morning, or in the night when a patient calls, but I’ve been as close to death as I want from taking sedatives or narcotics to bring on sleep--or make wakefulness more bearable.

Suggested Statement on Safety

Our group endeavors to provide a safe meeting place for all attendees and encourages each person here to contribute to fostering a secure and welcoming environment in which our meetings can take place. As our Traditions remind us, the formation and operation of an A.A. group resides with the group conscience. Therefore, we ask that group members and others refrain from any behavior which might compromise another person's safety.

Also, please take the precautions you feel are necessary to ensure your own personal safety, for example, walking to your car in a group after a meeting. If a situation should arise where someone feels their safety is in jeopardy, or the situation breaches the law, the individuals involved should take appropriate action. Calling the proper authorities does not go against any A.A. Traditions and is recommended when someone may have broken the law or endangered the safety of another person.

Service Material from the General Service Office

All the groups listed in our meeting directory, should be contributing regularly to the support of your Central Office. We want to be here when anyone reaches out for help. A big thank you to everyone, for all you do.

Reaching Out,
Join Us on Zoom Monday Evenings.

We are doing a group inventory, looking at ways in which we can be more accessible.

Current members with a wide range of sobriety, join our weekly meetings to discuss topics that impact all people in recovery thus providing a healthy balance for all.

We warmly welcome all genders, sexual preferences, ethnicities, and ages.

We meet on-line with ZOOM Monday Nights at 8:00 and will do so until we resume our "live" meetings at the North Shore Congregational Church in Fox Point.

Stop on by! We open up around 7:45 and begin at 8:00. If you are shy about "Zooming," just come on in and listen. It's Alcoholics Anonymous.

You will find a warm welcome to a lively and amiable group living one day at a time.

Wow Bill, this new book is fantastic.

A Visual History of Alcoholics Anonymous: An Archival Journey, $12.00 from your Central Office bookshop.

Haven't I been telling you that all along?

Dr. Bob

Bill W.

Originally developed as the souvenir book for the 2020 International Convention, this highly illustrated tour through A.A.'s history is told in hundreds of iconic images never before published in one volume. Illuminating descriptions walk us through powerful moments in A.A.'s history — from the people, places and things integral to A.A.'s early growth, and forward to today's vibrant, international Fellowship. Includes a special focus on Detroit in A.A.'s history and updated coverage of recent innovations in A.A. group life.

Gifts of Sobriety

When the Promises of Recovery Come True

"Why try?" we sometimes ask ourselves when faced with the uncertainties and hard work of recovery. But the answers are all around us, in the rich and spirited lives of those who have made the journey before us, each one a member of the joyful possibilities that await. These possibilities come alive in Gifts of Sobriety, a book that gives immediate meaning to the Big Book's promise: "We are going to know a new freedom and a new happiness."

SELF-SUPPORT

The Seventh Tradition states that Alcoholics Anonymous is self-supporting through our own contributions. The contributions help to cover the group's expenses. But the Seventh Tradition is more than simply paying for rent and other group expenses. It is both a privilege and a responsibility of individual groups and members to ensure that our organization, at every level, remains forever self-supporting and free of outside influences that might divert us from our primary purpose.

The monetary amount of each contribution is secondary to the spiritual connection that joins us in unity with A.A. groups around the world.
